RRM CANADA DAILY BRIEF

Key findings:

- RRM Canada did not observe any significant indicators of foreign state-sponsored information manipulation in its monitoring of the broader Canadian digital information ecosystem during the period of September 02.
- RRM Canada assesses the majority of English and French-language content originated from recognizable Canadian news sites.
- Chinese Communist Party media outlets (including the Global Times, People’s Daily and CCTV) shared widely a story that “Michael Kovrig and Michael Spavor collected China’s state secrets) on Weibo, Wechat and Douyin. The stories did not mention GE44, or discuss any political party or candidate by name.

User engagement with French-language and English-language online media

- The majority of French-language and English-language stories shared on Facebook, Twitter and Reddit for September 02 originated from recognizable Canadian media outlets.

User engagement with Sinophone online media

- Some of the most viewed stories on WeChat originated from recognizable Chinese-Canadian WeChat news accounts. However, the top-ranking WeChat news stories about Canadian political topics for September 02 originated from Chinese Communist Party (CCP) media outlets, including the Global Times, the People's Daily, the Communist Youth League, and CCTV.
  - CCP media outlets published widely on the topic “Michael Kovrig and Michael Spavor collected China’s state secrets” across the three most popular Chinese social media apps – WeChat, Weibo and Douyin.
  - WeChat and Weibo articles on this topic received considerable attention from WeChat users (over 100K page views).
  - Videos from the Global Times and CCTV on this topic received considerable attention from Douyin users (500K+ engagements).
  - None of the media produced on the topic of the two Michaels on September 02 mentioned GE44 or any Canadian political parties or candidates.
- A Global Times English-language article that claims “Spavor was a key informant of Michael Kovrig, and provided him with information over a long period” received little attention from Facebook, Twitter and Reddit users (80 engagements total).
  - The English article does not mention GE44, or any Canadian political parties or candidates.
  - The article was shared among Canadian public Facebook groups that view Chinese foreign policy favorably, and groups that support the 2019 Hong Kong pro-democracy protests.
- Canadian WeChat news accounts continue to share what appears to be a false story that the CPC leader Erin O’Toole would “ban WeChat” if elected.
  - Beimei Youth writes that former U.S. President Donald Trump “failed to ban [WeChat], would O’Toole be successful?”
  - The article received 360 views, considerably less than other WeChat accounts who published on the topic; a similar article from WeChat account CEIC published on August 31 received over 15K page views.

User engagement with Russophone online media

- There were no high-engagement posts from Canadian Russian-language media outlets for September 02. Topics of interest in global Russian-language media by total engagements include:
  - A Russian tabloid called the Ukrainian leader “President Lewinsky” to mock President Zelensky’s recent meeting with U.S. President Biden;
  - Russian mainstream media covered President Putin’s remarks on developing the Russian Far East.
