RRM CANADA DAILY BRIEF

Key findings:

- RRM Canada did not observe any significant indicators of foreign state-sponsored information manipulation in its monitoring of the broader Canadian digital information ecosystem during the period of August 31.
- RRM Canada assesses the majority of English and French-language content originated from recognizable Canadian news sites.
- WeChat news accounts in Canada continue to post what appears to be a false story that claims the CPC leader would ban WeChat if elected. The accounts sharing the story do not appear to be affiliated with Chinese Communist Party media outlets.

On our radar

User engagement with English-language online media

- With the exclusion of the Charlie Kirk Show post, the majority of English-language stories shared on Facebook, Twitter and Reddit for August 31 originated from recognizable Canadian media outlets.
- Charlie Kirk, CEO of the Students for Trump and Turning Point Action groups, published a video of a person directing a disparaging remark at the LPC leader. Kirk published the video on Rumble, a Canadian video hosting service that is popular with niche media figures. The video did not receive much attention from users (11K views), but received considerable attention on Facebook (7.2 engagements).
- Aside from posting the video, Kirk did not comment on GE44.
- With nearly 2.3 million Facebook followers, Kirk is more popular than many Canadian media outlets on Facebook (Toronto Sun, 140K followers, CTV 266K followers, Global News 2.1M followers).

User engagement with French-language online media

- The majority of French-language stories shared on Facebook, Twitter and Reddit for August 31 originated from recognizable Canadian media outlets.

User engagement with Sinophone online media

- The majority of Chinese-language stories shared on Facebook, Twitter and Reddit for August 31 originated from recognizable Canadian media outlets, including Canada Talks, BC Bay, 51.ca, Ottawazine, York BBS and Lahoo.
- Ottawazine, a local WeChat news account, shared a story previously reported in York BBS that CPC leader Erin O'Toole would "ban WeChat." The publishers add the claim that O'Toole would "openly confront foreign students from China" and that he "appealed to Canadians not to attend Confucius Institutes." The article received some attention on WeChat (3.0K page views).
- This is the fourth local WeChat news account to publish a headline that the CPC leader would "ban WeChat." No Chinese Communist Party media accounts have shared the story, or commented in an overt way on O'Toole's candidacy.

User engagement with Russophone online media

- There were no high-engagement posts from Canadian Russian-language media outlets for August 31.
- Topics of interest in global Russian-language media by total engagements include:
 - Coverage of the last day for US forces in Kabul, with comparisons to the "orderly withdrawal of the Soviet forces" from Afghanistan in 1989.
