Hello EC,

Yes we would like an inspection to know what is feasible. If we are doing an inspection my preference is to have the answer for both GCSI and CTSN, so we can make decisions and recommendations with all the information. And take into account both possibilities and restrictions if we have to do any fit ups.

At this stage it is most likely outcome is we would install a GCSI terminal on the here and use the partner scif for the medium term as we assess need, but I do need to make a full (assessment).

Thanks

Hi Carmen,

Happy Friday! EC had mentioned to me that in addition to having access to our GCSI system that the OCCE was interested in getting an inspection to determine if any spaces at would be suitable for GCSI and/or CTSN systems.

Is the OCCE still interested in having these inspections? If yes, for both systems or does the OCCE have a preference for one over the other?

Thanks

EC

Hi Carmen,

I hope that you are doing well. Please see below for confirmation from SSC about GCSI account information segregation, following the question you had asked us.

Also, please note that we are currently working on a brief training document that describes how to use the system. Once that is completed in the coming weeks, then should be able to get you all set-up with access to the GCSI system in the new year.

Hi EC

Each government department that is onboarded to GCSI is isolated within their own enclave. Files cannot be accessed and GCDocs instances cannot be shared between departments. The only possible way to share a document is via e-mail. So someone from EC would have to willingly attach a file to an e-mail destined for someone at CCE (or vice versa).

Hope this helps,

Subject: Question re: GCSI access for CCE

Hello,

We've received the following question from the Office of the Commissioner of Canada Elections regarding potential shared use of our GCSI terminal: "Can you confirm for me that Elections will not have access to the content of our communications on that terminal?"

It is my understanding it has an audit function at CSE which is fine, of course."

As we understand it, EC users wouldn't have any access to CCE communications made with the GCSI terminal, but we wanted to confirm this to ensure we answer their question correctly.

If possible, please let us know within the next week.

Have a good weekend,
