Threats to Democratic Institutions

- In 2019, state-sponsored adversaries will very likely attempt to target Canadians' opinions through malicious online influence activity.

What's at Stake?

Immediate:

- Exposure of personal or organizational data
- Compromise of citizens' private information
- Disrupted public services, activities, or events
- Exposure of state secrets
- Stolen or corrupted intellectual property

Long term loss of:

- Economic competitiveness against foreign competitors
- Confidence in the online world and the ability to protect citizens
- Economic prosperity, losing innovative edge

How to Identify and Handle
